Total Days

Make sure you have averaged 4 hours per day and completed 172 days of instruction. Instruction includes any time the student is studying or learning; it includes more than the time you sit with the child actually instructing the child. Religious instruction also counts.

You should be keeping a more detailed log for your personal records. We do not need to see any other work, unless you are in our high school Diploma Program.

If you are home educating more than one child you may separate children's hours with a slash. For example, 4/5/6 would mean: child one worked 4 hours/child two worked 5 hours/ child three worked 6 hours.
